Liability – Insurance

- Each paying participant is insured; see terms and conditions at www.passportesdusoleil.com.

- This insurance applies only to participants who have a name plate with their first name and surname and who have paid for their registration and followed the course rules (provided ID, present on the right day, taken the correct route...). The participants are taken in charge by the Pass'Portes rescue team and insurance only if they are on the Pass'Portes itinerary.

- Guests, partners, exhibitors and journalists are invited to purchase this insurance or to ensure that they have appropriate personal cover or similar from their employer. In the event of an accident, rescue costs will not be paid by the organiser of the ePass'Portes du Soleil MTB and the participant will be expected to bear these costs.

- In addition to the above accident insurance, each participant must have their own personal civil insurance.
- The organiser cannot be held responsible for loss, theft or damage to individual material or equipment.
- The organiser strongly recommends that every participant obtains a medical certificate indicating that they are fit for riding in the mountains.
- The organiser has civil liability insurance. This covers the organiser and all volunteers giving their services free of charge and directly managed by Les Portes du Soleil, and their stand-ins, in the event that such individuals are not entitled to legislation protecting them in the event of work-related accidents. This insurance also covers accidents involving participants and spectators. This civil liability insurance is applicable under certain terms and conditions.

On the course

- Participants will be informed how and when to retrieve their rider packs when they make their booking.
- Rider packs can only be collected on the day the participant has booked for. A hands-free liftpass will be supplied to each participant so they can use the lift network. This liftpass will only work when used from the designated starter resort. No access to the lifts will be possible without this hand-free card. If needed, the organisation will be able to follow the participants' tracks at the different lift points thanks to their liftpass.
- Lifts will open at 7.30 am for the duration of the ePass'Portes du Soleil MTB event. Departures for participants are advised from 7.30 am and before 10.30 am maximum.
- The personalised registration plate indicates which day the participant has booked to take part. It should be attached to the rider's bike in such a way that it is clearly visible for the duration of the ePass'Portes du Soleil MTB event.
- For your security, participants should heed the safety advice provided on the course by staff and volunteers.

- Anyone who fails to finish the course should let the organiser know (via a first aid post, food and drink station or nearest tourist office). Should such information not be forthcoming, the individual concerned will be expected to pay for the cost of any search and rescue effort.
- The lift network closes at 5.45pm during the 3-day event. Participants should find out how long it will take to return home to their starter resort by consulting the time indicator panels posted at strategic points throughout the course. Participants who fail to take note of this information will have to pay to be taken back to their starter resort.
- Each participant is understood to accept the risks associated with MTB and to follow the course of their own free will and volition.
- The organiser reserves the right to change the course and events programme, notably for safety reasons.
- Each participant consents to the organiser of the ePass'Portes du Soleil MTB using images of them; the same principle also applies to partners and media organisations (static or audio-visual), for brochures or promotional documentation.
- In accordance with Freedom of Information legislation dated 6 January 1978, each participant has the right to access and correct any personal data relating to them. Participants may be contacted by other organisations offering services. Should any participants not wish to receive such offers, they should inform the organiser, providing their name and address.

Covid

- Each participant must respect the specific measures taken on the event regarding the Covid-19 context. Failure to follow said instructions may lead to the withdrawal of the frame plate and lift pass.
- If the event were to be cancelled by the French and/or Swiss authorities, the participants registered for 2024 will see their registration automatically transferred to 2025 (starter resort and day picked in 2024).
